WHEN YOUR SUBSCRIPTION EXPIRES

We will place a blue cross mark in this square, which is to notify you that the time for which you paid your subscription has expired, and unless you renew at once your paper will be stopped. We do not want to stop your paper; we want you to get every issue, but our terms are cash in advance, and if you don't pay up promptly we will take it for granted that you don't want us to send it to you and we will not push it on you.

NEW ORDINANCES.

We have a suggestion to make to the city council that will mean a saving of from $150 to $200 in supplying the town with printed and revised ordinances, which the town needs greatly, and the people should demand, as it is next to impossible at this time to tell anything about the laws.

We have just come into the possession of about 21 copies of the revised ordinances of 1903, which were left over from filling the order for the city at that time. These are unbound, and some of them have missing pages and index.

By re-printing these missing pages and index, and printing the new ordinances, amendments, repeals, notes, changes, etc., and binding with the old ordinances, the books would be just as complete as new ordinances would be, at a cost of $25 to $35, whereas to revise and print new ordinances would cost all the way from $150 to $200, or more.

By using the ordinances we have and collecting in those now in the possession of the people, the number could likely be made to reach as high as 30 copies, which would be ample for the town at the present time.

For this work the town need not be out any money to speak of, as the people would gladly pay $1.00 a copy for the books, and each city official could be charged with the copy in his possession.

If the board does not take action on this we shall bind our copies and sell them, and then it will be too late.

As a rule, the banks of the country owe their existence first, to business men of the town, who furnish the working capital, and the business man owes his existence to the people who buy his wares, and the home paper links them all together and is the poorest paid business in existence. But what is fair for the goose is fair for the gander. If the people ordered all their goods from the mail order houses, what would become of the merchant? and if the merchant went down what use would there be for the bank? Merchants, as a rule, realize the great benefits of a newspaper for the town and community and appreciate its value as a trade getter for the town, and most of them are liberal in their support of the home paper and give it all their job printing, while the banks, as a rule, send their work away, to the city houses, where they get it a little cheaper by ordering large quantities. As a general rule, the banks only have small jobs done home—from 500 to 2000—and as the price is higher on small quantities than on larger ones, the banks seem to think that it is a great saving to send their five, ten, fifteen and twenty thousand orders to the cities and the home printer is never given a chance to figure on it. But suppose the home printer should charge just a little more; suppose the banks of Hayti did not order government printed envelopes and let us print their blanks and forms, money would remain at home, we could pay our interest and our notes promptly, and we could pay our store accounts with J. L. Dorris, L. C. Averill, A. J. Dorris, L. Kohn, L. L. Leffer and others; we could give Hayti a better paper and no one would be the loser. We believe in patronizing home people and home enterprises.

What has become of all that sidewalk construction that was talked of some time ago? It don't take city revenue to build sidewalks. The property owners must pay the bill and the laws of the city and state are ample to force the work to be done and paid for. All required is a little vim on the part of the city official to see that the work is done. We are heartily ashamed of both sides of the street leading north from the northeast corner of the square. It is a shame and a disgrace to our city, and as the walks at this place were simply destroyed or removed, it only requires the proper order to replace them.

Early Tuesday morning a number of the tax payers of Hayti who pay 5% on the 100 valuation to pay for the city hall were greatly worried by coming over to the postoffice to find the floor of the hallway standing in water, and some of them suggested that a mass meeting of the tax payers be called to look after the matter. It is very plain that something must be done at once, as the building is too valuable to let go to wreck, ruin and decay. These tax payers urged us to take the matter up once more, so we will ask the board of aldermen to have a meeting especially to look after this matter.

Marshall Juden asks us to correct the statement that he intended to resign the office of city marshal on account of being appointed deputy sheriff, and to state that he was a candidate for re-election. Our informant was one of the signers of the petition to have Mr. Juden appointed deputy sheriff, who said that was his understanding of the matter, and the item was given purely as news. Mr. Juden says, however, that he intends to hold both offices by appointing a deputy to attend to the marshal's office during his absence as deputy sheriff. At present Jas. Argo is acting marshal.

It is time now to begin to cast about for the city election on April 6. It is now little more than a month, and the time is short. We want the people to get down to business on this matter and elect good men. We have no means of knowing who the candidates will be, but we are sure they will be plentiful. The interest of Hayti as a city is at stake. There are just lots of things that ought to be done for the good and for the advancement of Hayti, and none but live, wide-awake, progressive men ought to be elected. Be careful and think well before you vote.

Are we compelled to make our appeal for the improvement of the public square stronger? What are the people thinking about, anyway? Is Hayti never to rise beyond the level of a barn lot or cow pasture? What does the outside world think of us and how do you expect Hayti ever to become a city unless her people try to make it so? If you want to silence our talk, do something—that's what we want.

Cannelton (Ind.) Enquirer: Wm. York, is now in Hayti Mo., where three months ago he established the Hayti Herald, the snappiest, newsiest and cleanest printed 5-column quarto we have looked upon for a long while. And he edits the paper too, in a way that indicates that he knows his business. He goes on to boom and boost Hayti, and to read his sayings, Hayti seems to be the only spot on earth, and it is Bro. York's privilege and pleasure to do this as he is working hard to make Hayti a good town and a big one.

Nervous Collapse

"I have traveled for thirty years continually. I lost a great deal of sleep, which together with constant worry left me in such a nervous state that finally, after having two collapses of nervous prostration, I was obliged to give up traveling altogether. I doctored continually but with no relief. Dr. Miles' Nervine came to my rescue—I cannot describe the suffering which this Nervine saved me. Whenever I am particularly nervous a few doses relieve me." A. G. C. LIBBY, Wells, Me.

There are many nervous wrecks. There is nervous prostration of the stomach, of the bowels, and other organs. The brain, the kidneys, the liver, the nerve centers are all exhausted. There is but one thing to do—build up the nervous system by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Its strengthening influence upon the nervous system restores normal action to the organs, and when they all work in harmony, health is assured. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

Another batch of advertising for government printed envelopes was sent out last week. About the next thing the government will be selling stamps at cut prices. We are surprised at the business men of Hayti who do not give their work to the Herald instead of to the rich government of the United States and city printers.

Dell Longgear, well known in Pemiscot county as one of the pioneer newspaper men, is now editor and publisher of the Democrat at Prairie du Rocher, Ill., and the paper shows excellent patronage and popularity with the people. We wish Dell all kinds of good things.

The Cape Progress is informed that Oklahoma has a state law and a commission to regulate express rates in that state, and that reductions made applies only to that state, hence the proposed reduction of which hespeaks cannot effect Missouri.

Missouri is following after Oklahoma. A bill has been introduced in the legislature providing for nine-foot bed sheets in hotels.
